Oil Paints (in my Standard palette arrangement — left to right)

I will BOLD and add an asterisk (*) after the colors in the minimum color palette I used with you. I really like Williamsburg paints or Gamblin brand for most of my oil colors. You can use whatever you have, but try to avoid the student grade paints and "hues".

- Permanent Crimson or Permanent Alizarin (Not Alizarin Crimson)
- Quinacridone Red
- Cadmium Red Light
- Cadmium Yellow Medium
- Cadmium Yellow (Lemon or Light)
- Indian Yellow (Gamblin)
- Viridian
- Cobalt Blue
- Ultramarine Blue
- King's Blue (Sennelier)
- Dioxazine Purple
- White* (I use Permalba brand for my white.)
- Ivory Black
- Transparent Iron Oxide or Red Oxide or Burnt Umber

Brushes

Have a variety of sizes and shapes. Hog hair bristle. I like Robert Simmons' – Signet brand

- Filberts #2, 4, 8
- Flats #4

Palette

For home use, I recommend buying something that is mobile and closes. My preference is the French Mistress because it closes and you can keep your paint fresh for a couple of days. It comes with a wood base so you can wipe it clean after each use. However, I have added a piece of glass that is sealed with a bead of caulk at the bottom of my French Mistress. Glass can be cleaned with a razor scraper.

Paper Towels

I recommend using Viva or blue shop towels (Costco or Auto Store) because the surface is smooth and soft. They are very heavy duty and paint does not seep through as easily as cheap paper towels, keeping your hands cleaner.

Solvent Can

With Odorless Mineral Spirits (OMS, Gamsol) (No turpentine or orange oil)
